

Why Do We Make Art?

The first artists

These artworks are tens of thousands of years old.

When these ancient artworks were discovered, it helped us to learn more about our ancestors. We know now that humans have made art throughout their existence.

Tertiary colours

A tertiary colour is created by mixing a primary colour with a secondary colour.

For example, yellow-orange or blue-purple.

On this colour wheel, the tertiary colours are outlined in black.
