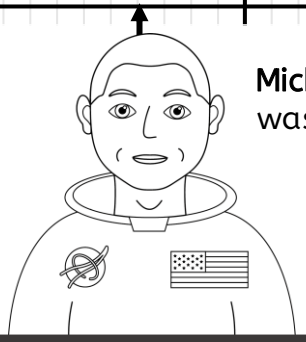
Explorers

	Sacagawea	Michael Collins
What was their childhood like?	• When she was 12, she was taken by another tribe and sold to a man who became her husband.	• He grew up wanting to be a pilot.
What expedition did they go on?	• Lewis & Clark expedition.	• Apollo 11.
What did they do on the expedition?	• Translated the Shoshone language. • Found edible plants. • Made shoes and clothing.	• He piloted the Columbia while the Eagle landed on the Moon. • He made sure they all came home safely.
How were they remembered?	• Straight after the expedition, she was not rewarded and she died soon after. • A long time after the expedition, people remembered how important her part was.	• Straight after the expedition, he was treated like a hero. He met Queen Elizabeth II. • A long time after the expedition, he is known as the forgotten astronaut because people only remember the two astronauts who walked on the Moon.

Explorers

1800 1900 2000 Today

Sacagawea was born in 1788.



Michael Collins was born in 1930.

	Sacagawea	Michael Collins
What was their childhood like?	• She grew up belonging to the Shoshone tribe. • When she was 12, she was taken by another tribe and sold to a man who became her husband.	• He grew up wanting to be a pilot. • He became one of the best pilots in USA and was chosen to train to become an astronaut.
What expedition did they go on?	• Lewis & Clark expedition. • It aimed to create maps of parts of North America.	• Apollo 11. • It aimed to send men to walk on the Moon.
What did they do on the expedition?	• Translated the Shoshone language, so Lewis & Clark could buy horses for their expedition. • Found edible plants for the group to eat. • Made shoes and clothing for the group.	• He piloted the Columbia while the Eagle landed on the Moon. • He stayed on board the Columbia while Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin walked on the Moon. • He made sure they all came home safely.
How were they remembered?	• Straight after the expedition, she was not rewarded and she died soon after. • A long time after the expedition, people remembered how important her part was. Statues were built and a coin made to remember her.	• Straight after the expedition, he was treated like a hero. He met Queen Elizabeth II. • A long time after the expedition, he is known as the forgotten astronaut because people only remember the two astronauts who walked on the Moon.

Train Number One, July 1925 (sepia photo) - The Stapleton Collection / Bridgeman Images